

J. Snape Elected President Board of Trade for 1938

ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS
Wm. McLaws Vice-President - M. A. Haynes Re-Elected Secretary-Treasurer

The first regular meeting of the Basasso Board of Trade for the 1937 term was held in the Royal Cafe on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 12th, at 1 p.m. Sixteen members were present with the president, Mr. J. A. Johnston occupying the chair.

The minutes of the last regular meeting, which was held in November, 1937, were read and adopted.

Mr. R. Donaldson, acting in the capacity of Secretary during the illness of Mr. M. A. Haynes, read the Secretary's report, and the financial statement of the Board for the year ending December 31st, 1937. A brief discussion of this statement followed, several suggestions being made as to improvements that could be made whereby the Board would profit. The statement was finally accepted as read.

Mr. J. A. Donaldson, Secretary of the Local Business Committee, gave a short summary of the work done up to the present time by that Committee, and explained how necessary it was for the Committee to have funds to offer assistance in the form of clothing to unfortunate residents of the town. So far the Committee have been able to meet all expenditures necessary to do this, but they have a very small surplus to work on in the future.

The President, Mr. Johnston, then addressed the meeting and thanked the Board Members for the co-operation he had received during the past year. He also expressed the desire that this same measure of co-operation would be extended to the officers that were to be elected, and on whom the responsibility of conducting the Board's interests fell for the coming year. He reviewed the affairs of the last year, pointing out mistakes that should be avoided in the future, and offering several suggestions for the conducting of affairs in general during the new year.

Following Mr. Johnston's address, the meeting was then held for the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—Mr. J. Snape
 Vice-President—Mr. Wm. McLaws
 Sec.-Treas.—Mr. M. A. Haynes.

ORPHEUS THEATRE NEWS

SUBMARINE D-1 is a Navy picture, set at Washington, and starring Pat O'Brien, George Brent, Wayne Morris and Frank McHugh.

This picture is built around the men who go down into the sea in ships. It shows remarkable glimpses of a submarine proving the depths and still more remarkable shots of one lying battered and helpless on the coast floor and of the rescue of the imprisoned men.

The acting is very good, with Pat and Wayne as amazing rivals. George Brent is a sympathetic and loyal Lieutenant-Commander.

If you are fond of action and thrills and are interested in the navy, you will be greatly interested in this picture, which plays at the Orpheus on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The film was produced by Warner Brothers, with the U.S. Navy throwing all resources behind the making. At Naval Base, the Navy directed the picture and issued all orders.

With Canadian News of the Day, and a good comedy, this feature will be exciting and very good entertainment from the first to the last reel. Liberty gives it play 3 stars and Junior Fidler rates it worth three bells.

The auxiliary gas plant was run several times during the month and in good condition.

Both pumps at the pump station were run during the month and were in good condition.

The Secretary was instructed to write to the Public Utilities Commission requesting that a competent representative of the Board be given leave to make a survey of the district with a view to having the Roadholders agree to a re-arrangement of the District payments in line with the ability of the Town to pay.

Financial Report New Year's Dance

The following is the report of the local Young Men's Club on the proceeds turned over to the local Business Committee following the dance held in the Masonic Hall, Basasso, on New Year's Eve.

It is regretted that the net proceeds of the dance did not reach expectations, due probably to the fact that the dance was not quite as well attended this year as it has been in the past. However, the sum derived will, to a certain extent, aid the local committee in their work of assisting needy persons and families in Basasso.

To date the Bearcats have engaged in five hockey games, and if the schedule arranged is completed, they will play five more games in the next two weeks, with possibly one or two more games being added.

In the games played so far, the Bearcats have won two, lost two and tied one. In their three encounters with the fast stepping Brooks Club the honors are even, each team having won one, the third resulting in a draw. In their first game of the season, the locals were defeated 3-0 in Brooks.

In the return match, the Bearcats stepped out to take a 1-0 costly contested struggle, playing a Wednesday afternoon game at Brooks, the clubs played to a 3-3 draw. Brooks turning the score in the last of the third, after the Bearcats had set the pace all the way.

In an exhibition match with the Glenora Gunners, the Bearcats came out on the short end of a 6-2 score. This game, though entirely in favor of the Glenora Gunners, was a productive of some good hockey, and it is hoped these teams will be matched again with the feeling amongst local supporters being that the Bearcats are in better shape now to give the Gunners a little more opposition.

In a friendly encounter with a team from Rosemary, the locals were unable to emuls a total of 12 goals, the visitors netting only one.

On Friday, Jan. 14th, the locals again play hosts to the Brooks Irregulars. This game is billed for 8:15 p.m., and should be a good game, as both teams will be eager to break the deadlock that now exists.

On Wednesday, Jan. 19th, the Drumhead Rockets will journey to Basasso, providing present negotiations are completed. The Rockets are a fast stepping team, and will give the Bearcats one of the toughest opposition they have encountered this season.

In an exhibition game with the Medicine Hat Tigers, the Rockets defeated the Bearcats 5-1. This was only the second defeat for the Tigers this season, the other being at the hands of a powerful Moose Jaw Club.

The Rockets also defeated Brooks 3-1, so be on hand, fans, for this encounter. The Bearcats will return to Drumhead on Saturday for the following week-end. These dates are not definitely set yet, and fans are requested to watch for posters afterwards.

On Friday, Jan. 21st, the Bearcats are billed to play Arrowwood. For the past two seasons Arrowwood has played a fairly good team, and have been entered in the Provincial Intermediate play-offs. They have been improving their team each year, and are reported having a strong team this year.

The Bearcats will make the return trip to Arrowwood the following week. In this scheduled return, the possibility of games with Strathmore and Medicine Hat being added, the Basasso Bearcats will have met some of the best intermediate teams in the province. The outcome of these games will decide the future for the Bearcats. Be on hand, fans and supporters, give the club your support from the sidelines. Full and detailed accounts of the games as they are played will be brought to readers in the next few issues of the Recorder.

SLOWLY PROSECUTIONS

THERE are some rather contradictory aspects in our much vaunted system of British justice. Something cannot be just when conscience dictates that it is manifestly unjust. The persecution which has taken place of Solloway all over the Dominion of Canada since he was originally convicted, fined and jailed in Calgary many years ago on charges of "bucketing" clearly lies in this class.

Admitting that what was being done was unlawful it is clear that it must have been obvious to the authorities long before any prosecution took place. It is equally clear that those who were dealing with the firm were quite ready and willing to take profits so long as they lasted, but when the bubble burst, they were not prepared to take their medicine and squaked. The peculiar aspect of the matter lies in the fact that the Attorneys General of the Provinces in the name of the King should lend themselves to the prosecutions, and conduct them to such an extent and so often that even the public conscience has become resentful. It is to be hoped that there will be no more of it heard in the Courts of Canada.

F. C. A. ACT CRITICISM

J. E. A. MacLeod, K.C. of Calgary, at the recent meeting of the J. Alberta Bar Association, called attention to the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, and even went so far as to state that the Statute ought to be repealed. Mr. MacLeod, he said, is the head of a firm which for years has acted for farm implement corporations, which, of course, are vitally interested in the operation of the Act in question. We are afraid that he has been able to look at only one side of the question, and has overlooked either intentionally or otherwise the benefits which farmers of the efficient producer class have derived from the Act. One feature which is to be regretted is that more farmers who undoubtedly are entitled to some relief from the burden of debt hanging over them, incurred through no particular faults of theirs, have not seen fit to seek the protection which is afforded them. If men in business are entitled to take bankruptcy, which business of the creditor class depends as a general rule, then there can be no reason why farmers should not be entitled to the protection of the modified form of bankruptcy which the F.C.A. Act provides.

FINANCIAL RACKETEERING

IN THE DOMINION Parliament two years ago a bill was introduced aimed at providing some measure of control over the operations of that class of financial house which handles deferred payments on the purchase price of certain commodities, chiefly automobiles, refrigerators, pianos, and the like. The bill was dropped for some reason, and nothing has been heard of it since. Here is a field where there ought to be some restrictive legislation to stop the racket that has been going on for many years under false pretences and in almost complete defiance of the laws of usury. Not so very long ago, a certain astute gentleman's son wished to buy a radio on his own as a present for his mother and to make the payments himself. Seeking to give his son an object lesson in the ways of high finance, the father let his son go ahead and make all the arrangements in a tentative form, but before the deal was actually closed, he took the trouble to calculate the interest that was to be charged, having as a basis the original purchase price, interest which became principal when the note was signed, finance charges and all the other innovations of the system and then was able to point out to the youth that he was paying 32% interest. The deal did not go through. There is no such thing as "easy payments on the deferred plan." In fact any deferred payment plan that we have ever known of "in fact any deferred payment plan that we have ever known of" is a racket which can be stacked against the purchaser from the beginning. The public, however, appears never to be able or even willing to learn the lesson.

THE UNITARY STATE

ASSUMING THAT the Fathers of Confederation could be brought back to life to view the present constitutional mess in Canadian Public Affairs, would they be proud of the results of their labours? If they were asked today to provide the working machinery of Government in Canada, would they establish a Federal Parliament and nine or twelve legislatures? Would they say that it requires the creation of about 27,000 Governmental bodies to rule slightly over ten million people? Would they provide for a Governor General and nine Lieutenant Governors whose duties apart from the social end amount to accepting the advice of Ministers of the Crown and assenting to bills? Would they know, the marvels of the telegraph, the radio, the aeroplane, and viewing the transportation systems of the Dominion whereby space has been annihilated, and a transcontinental journey something of little moment, do as they did at Confederation? It is an interesting speculation, and probably of no material political value, but if it pays Henry Ford to scrap plants costing millions of dollars, and to keep on scrapping them, in order to keep up with the march of time in the industrial world, then why should Government adhere so tenaciously to the old outworn systems? Is it because we are unwilling to tie forever to the "spirit which created confederation" and which bids fair to wreck it? Or shall the Dominion of Canada wake up and become modern? The Rowell Commission a year from now may supply the answer and maybe not.

MR. McFARLAND'S ADDRESS

LAST FRIDAY Mr. John I. McFarland addressed the people of the Province over the air. As might have been expected, his address was completely free from that spirit of rancour and bitterness which has so permeated recent political address. The speech was, however, merely a resume of Alberta's political history since the 1935 election, while, at the same time refuting the suggestion that the Peoples League was a creation of any one line political party or the tool of any so-called eastern Finance interests. When a man of the calibre of John I. McFarland states a fact it may be taken as being a fact, and true in every sense. For that reason, we are glad to have heard the last of the Peoples League being just another name for one of the old line parties. The other statement that it was the tool of financial interests hardly requires any answer, but we are glad that it has been answered by someone outside the ranks of the old line parties, and on whose word absolute reliance may be placed.

SOUND AND FURY

(From the Hamilton Spectator)

THE PREMISES of Canada's two largest provinces, after a melodramatic show of political bombast, have concluded a remarkable "entente" against Ottawa, the west and things in general. Old hellebore in a turmoil of their own making, Messrs Duplessis and Hepburn can now review their handiwork; and so can the people of Ontario and the Dominion.

What the net result will be it is difficult to say. But this can be said quite safely, Prime Minister Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King has not lost prestige; rather we would say he has gained it. In a general melee of party experience and egotistical spleen he has held to his principles and to a good measure of dignity.

He is faced with a test now of maintaining a national stability which has been reeked by devious political play by the two provinces. He will have the support of most of the people of Canada, irrespective of political affiliations. The unity of the Dominion and the common decency of its public life, are too valuable to be wrecked by the aspirations of men who seem to have lost all sense of responsibility in the drive for personal power.

MAKE CANADA ONE NATION

THIS IS Canada's job of the year. It is a job to which every citizen must put his hand.

To leave it to selfish, narrow-minded provincial politicians of the type that have been practically vocal in recent weeks is to jeopardize our future as a nation.

The job will require a modernized constitution. It will require the best wisdom and judgement the Rowell Commission can bring to bear on our complex financial and taxation puzzles.

It will require elimination of our overlapping services and of the vexatious confusion and waste that have crept into our governmental systems since 1867.

It will require encouragement of every unifying force such as our national publications. Above all it will require the active co-operation of all Canadians who believe Canada should go forward as one nation and who are prepared to make sacrifices, if necessary, to achieve this end.—Financial Post.

BRITISH FIND RIOTERS FOREIGN

BRITISH FASCISTS under Sir Oswald Mosley have done one good thing. Their parades were broken up by rioters and their leader stoned, so they went into the detective business and discovered the rioters were foreigners. They submitted a list of one hundred, it is said, to the Home Office with a request for deportation. A cable to the New York Times says the Home Office is making no fuss about it, but is quietly carrying on deportation proceedings. The dispatch says the British do not know what to do with foreigners who have reason to expect death if they are returned home. We should not have much tenderness towards them. Men who go to England to escape death at home should pay some respect to the laws of the land in which they seek exile, but propaganda, intrigue and conspiracy are their meat and drink.

Cosgrave joined DeValera in supporting a resolution recognizing Italian sovereignty over Ethiopia. Think of that, my boys: For seven centuries Irishmen fought and bled rather than yield sovereignty to the Sassanians. It is only recognition of a few days' DeValera's policy of the little Napper, Tandy, Grattan, O'Connell and Parnell didn't talk that way. What they said was, we don't care if it is a fact, we won't recognize it, and it is not a fact unless we do.

A BAINSFATHER NEEDED

(Hanna Herald)

IN LOOKING back over the events of the past year with its moments of political tension amounting almost to hysteria it is quite evident that if we would avoid the dangers of too great an excitement in the days to come a new quality must be supplied to friendly discussions. All will readily perceive the necessity of a safety-valve—an outlet for emotions keyed to the highest pitch. During the Great War, in situations becoming almost humanly unbearable—when nerves were laid to the breaking point and madness seemed inevitable, always some way would be found, who could see the funny side of a serious business and a foolish remark would be made which would set everyone within hearing into a fit of laughter. After the laughter ceased the tension was eased and sanity saved. Possibly the value of the contribution of Captain Bainsfather's cartoons can never be accurately estimated in their effect in sustaining the morale of the troops. None can they be a wholesome outlet. His character "Old Bill" and the "Better Old" will remain in the memory of every veteran. One of his most famous cartoons showed "Old Bill" lying in a shell hole up to his neck in mud and water, with a bullet in his head and Bill is saying "If you know of a better 'ole'—go to it!"

Alberta needs a Bainsfather. We need a clever cartoonist who can draw pictures of the situations as they arise and with which all Albertans are familiar. This character must have original wit and the ability to inject a note of humor into the most tragic situations. This typically Albertan character must have the ability to make us laugh at ourselves. His sayings must become by-words wherever Albertans gather. He must restore our sense of humor and in regaining our humor we will retain our sanity. Such a cartoonist would be a god-send at this time. Fame and fortune would be his. More than that, he would have the personal satisfaction of knowing that he had contributed more to the well-being of the people of Alberta than all the theories of all the theorists with which we are afflicted.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE BY THE CANADIAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

DRAUGHTS

A draught to many people is draughts. A draught is a current of air which, striking one part of the body, cools or chills that part, while the rest of the body remains warm. We can stand out of doors in a good stiff breeze and feel stimulated by the rush of air. We can go on bathing and have the whole body wet and yet experience nothing but a good out of the plunges. If, however, we have a perceptible breeze strike only one part of the body, or if our feet become chilled after having been wet, such an experience is apt to be followed by discomfort in the part chilled by the draught, or a cold in the head may follow. There is no question but that some people are more sensitive to draughts than very others.

Fear of draughts should not lead to our living a life shut out from fresh air. Living in over-heated rooms, with the air absolutely still, is to be avoided, for it has a definite effect on the body. It is quite practical to keep the air in a room in a constant motion which comfort and good health demand, without draughts. The motion of good air will strike and call one part of the body to a more desirable atmosphere in which to live and work.

Draughts may be avoided by opening the window on high instead of a foot, or by the using of window blinds, or by the use of air registers to prevent a direct draught. In offices and schools a good practice is to open the windows wide at intervals while everyone moves about or takes some simple exercises.

Those who are sensitive to draughts can frequently overcome the condition by the use of cold baths or by dressing the chest with cold water. In this way they tone up their bodies to adapt themselves to changes in temperature. Clothing according to the thermometer is also necessary.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 114 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

CANADA TO BEGIN REFINING ANTIMONY

The first commercial production of refined antimony in Canada will take place within the next few months, according to a dispatch from the Department of Mines and Resources at Ottawa. The metal will be produced by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada in its antimony refinery at Trail, B. C., the erection of which is nearing completion.

The dispatch advises that small quantities of antimony occur in the silver-cobalt-nickel-arsenic ores which are treated at Delora, Ont., and are shipped abroad for further treatment, but that no payments are received for the metal. Other than this except for small experimental shipments between 1926 and 1931, there has been no production of antimony in Canada since 1917, when there was an output of 861 tons of the ore, valued at $125,000. Antimony was produced intermittently in small lots in the Maritime provinces for several years prior to 1917.

The plant at Trail will treat low dust residues from the Company's silver refinery, and is designed to handle ten tons of these residues daily, which will comprise sixty per cent of the charge until the piles have been depleted. Expectations are that in excess of 1,400 tons of refined antimony a year will be produced which amount is about double that of Canada's annual imports of the metal. The development is timely owing to the difficulties that many countries are experiencing in obtaining adequate supplies of antimony from China, which in 1936 supplied 93 per cent of the total world output of the metal.

Another company, incorporated recently in British Columbia, has made arrangements for the production of antimony from the gold-antimony ores of some of the properties in the Bridge River area in that province.

Success in life is a matter not so much of talent or opportunity as of concentration and perseverance.

Mrs. Fisher Suggests

FOR LUNCHEON

Canadian Fish and Cheese Casserole Place a layer of cooked peas or cooked spinach in the bottom of a large shallow greased baking dish. Place on the vegetables a layer of any variety of Canadian fish, using either slices of fish or fillets cut into suitable lengths. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and cooking oil over the fish. Place the dish in a hot oven for six or eight minutes. Then, having a cheese sauce ready, pour it over the fish, sprinkle with fine bread crumbs, dotted with butter, and put the dish back in the oven until the top is nicely browned. The cheese sauce may be made as follows: Melt two tablespoons of butter, blend with one tablespoon of flour, and add a cup of liquid (a cup of milk or of milk and vegetable water combined); cook the mixture until it is thick and smooth, stirring constantly, and last before removing it from the stove add a half cup of grated Canadian cheese, and continue to stir the sauce until the cheese is melted.

Canadian fish are rich in vitamins and health-building minerals—and having regard to nutritive value, are among the most nourishing of foods.

It is in the minor actions of our daily life that our true character is revealed.

Arrowwood Notes

The Arrowwood Bonspiel takes place on Tues. Wed. and Thurs. Jan. 14-17-18. Get your entries in early.

Mrs. Mac L. Todd was in Arrowwood on Saturday evening, having off her new car. She wishes to thank all her friends who helped her to win it.

The United Church Choir sang were pretty well filled on Sunday. Let us hope the girls will keep it up.

Mrs. Lewandowski and Marjorie returned home from Brooks on Thursday, where they had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Lewandowski's daughter Mrs. W. Ward.

The 1st Company of the Arrowwood Old Guides held their first meeting of the year on Tuesday night, last. They were pleased to welcome three new girls, making a total of 15 Guides now. During the meeting, the girls practiced their different dances for a concert they are planning in the near future.

Langdon 7-Arrowwood 5. Langdon took revenge on the Arrowwood Seniors to the tune of 7-4 Monday evening. A rough game with a few fights here and there, gave the fans lots of excitement. The fine play of the Langdon goalie accounts for most of the victory.

Arrowwood 5-Vulcan 6

The Arrowwood Midget Hockey Team journeyed to Vulcan on Friday evening last and engaged the Vulcan Midgets in a close, well fought game as the score would indicate. The tally was 5-3 until the dying minutes of the game, when Vulcan were fortunate to score the winning goal. A good game is expected here on Saturday night, when the Vulcan Midgets return the game. Don't forget the date and time, Saturday, Jan. 15th at 7 p.m. Ad. 15c.

DUSTLESS ROADS ACROSS PRAIRIES URGED BY A.M.A.

Building of dustless highways across the prairies to link with the great national parks in this province is being urged upon the Dominion government.

This need was brought out in a resolution passed when members of the Alberta Motor Association held their annual meeting at Calgary recently. They also emphasized the need of completing the Trans-Canada highway.

With a big tourist season ahead both Provincial and Federal governments are being called upon to encourage their highest appropriation. Announcement was made by the Province some days ago that an application will be made to Ottawa for a grant of $1,000,000 to Alberta for highway improvements next year. This sum, if provided, would be matched by an equal amount from provincial funds.

If an increased federal grant is forthcoming it is believed that Alberta will see fresh activity in highway building and surfacing during the next year.

Alberta needs hard surfaced roads and the demand for that type of road is becoming more insistent from year to year. When there is a hard surfaced road from the U.S. boundary to northern Alberta, tourists will pour into this province, giving rural and urban business fresh impetus. Similar results will accrue when dustless highways are built across the prairie provinces.

$5,214,000 WORTH OF GOODS ENTERED CANADA FREE IN EIGHT MONTHS

Ottawa—In the first eight months of the current fiscal year returning Canadian tourists brought in $5,214,000 worth of goods under the statutory provision which exempt duty payment up to $100 in value. The greater part of these goods came from the United States to the total being $4,858,563, according to national revenue department figures released recently.

The items are classified as "travelers' baggage" and are classified under seven categories including one for miscellaneous commodities. Chief

THINGS AND STUFF

BY VALTER VINCHILL

Did we notice a crimson tinge come to the color of Babe Bassano's face one night last week, when his attention was drawn to the fact that one of the names on the blackboard was spelled wrong? . . . Bob Davidson overrode the liberty of expanding his chest on Monday night, when under his evidence, his rival whistled Scotty McLane. Which reminds us—didn't Scotty emphasize the value of the "last rocks" in a talk he gave the lady curriers the same afternoon? . . . One of the Operators at the Orpheum Theatre is a sick man, or so it seems, at least he is hanging around the hospital a lot—maybe it's a blood ture!

Don't know whether it was the after-effects of New Year's or not that prompted one of our ambitious lady skaters to place the right skates on the wrong feet one afternoon last week—maybe Mrs. Riley could give us a little more detailed information as to how the misplacement occurred.

And where was Allan hiding when "Dee" made a search of Shorty's to seek his whereabouts recently. You guess! . . . John Bacon was caught one day this week twitching his mouth to develop that proper new-found accent. . . . Some of the local lads say you can save show money by watching the ladies curl. . . . Pick-up-Sticks and other pastime games seem to be proving fascinating to some of the local lads—or is that not what is drawing their attentions to the south side of town. . . . We are told that the only difference between Charley McCarthy, the radio dummy, and a local lad with a similar name is that the local lad can do his own talking—we wonder. . . . This sign "30" for the present, folks, and if we don't run into Chas. before this time next week—look for us again.

1938 Success Recipe

This is success: to live beyond debt. Too big to play the liar or the cheat. Too big to learn when burdens heavy. Asking no favor from friends or depending to life and all that it may mean.

With broad heart and hands and confidence clear.

This is success: to live from year to year.

Not asking always sunny skies and clear.

But wise enough to know and understand.

Life never runs exactly as we've planned.

Seeking the best, but when the worst is met.

Taking the blow without too much regret.

This is success: with all to play the friend.

Willing to give and glad at times to lend.

Laughing and singing whenever y may.

But walking bravely through the rainy day.

Giving your best throughout the passing years.

Neither deceived by flattery nor by sneers.

This is success: the love of friends to win.

To taste no pleasure that may lead to sin.

To take no profit from the hand of shame.

But by the fair fight win or lose the game.

To get from life such triumphs as you can.

But still through good or ill to play the man.

—Edgar A. Guest.

Item was clothing which had a value of $2,668,214 from all countries, of which $2,319,415 was from the United States.

In November the exemption clause was used to the extent of $54,314, which compared with $67,119 in the same month last year. Of these totals goods from the United States were valued at $446,425 and $346,653 respectively.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SUNNY PICTURES INDOORS

An afternoon nap—and an indoor-sunlight picture of rare charm. Note how reflecting surfaces, the light walls, the bed spread, the white dress.

soften and brighten the shadows. Exposure 1/10 second at f8.

Do not feel, fellow snapshoters, that just because the sun stays out of doors you cannot make sun light pictures inside.

Wherever sunlight streams through a window, there is a setting for a picture, often an extremely good picture, because of the play of light and shadow from the window framing and curtains.

In a light-walled room, especially one with plain plaster walls or patternless wallpaper, the shadows in such an indoor-sunlight picture have a soft, luminous quality which gives the prints unusual delicacy and appeal. However, unless it is a sun-room that has windows facing in several directions, it is necessary to add the shadow illumination with reflectors. These can be white sheets or pillowcases draped over a chair, white cardboard or blotter-paper, or anything else that will pick up the sunlight and cast it toward the subject's shadow side.

In addition, the light may be pleasantly softened by a close-mesh window curtain through which the sunbeams pass. With such a diffuser, exposures should be about double what you would give outside in the sun. The sunlight should come from above, shining upward upon the subject and amateur floodlight bulbs can be used to soften shadows where reflectors are insufficient.

John Van Guilder.

In Police Court

On Thursday, 6th January, Philip Kraus of Duchess, Alta., pleaded guilty before Police Magistrate S. H. Edwards at Bassano to a charge of committed assault occasioning bodily harm to Cornelius Beumann, also of Duchess.

It appears that a dog, the property of the accused, was disturbing or worrying certain stock, the property of the complainant, who took a shot or two with a gun at the dog. This so angered the accused that he took the law in his own hands some time afterwards and struck the complainant on the jaw with far more serious results than he possibly contemplated. The complainant dropped unconscious and had to be removed to the hospital for six weeks with a badly injured jaw and chest bruise.

On the accused showing that he had paid the hospital bill, and had given his assurance that all other bills would be taken care of by him, the magistrate gave him suspended sentence of two years, and he was bound over to keep the peace for that length of time, upon entering into a recognizance to keep the peace with two sureties of $250.00 each.

For Fred Thompson, this will be his first major Bonspiel, but "Pussy" has a good eye, true on the broom and has good control. He should compare favorably with other Second's at the 'Biel.

Arty Simpson has long been recognized as one of the outstanding curlers in Southern Alberta. When the going is the toughest, Simpson's generally there or thereabouts. He has been a regular attendee at the Calgary Bonspiel for number of years, and as a third man, makes ace. With this personnel, it is hoped that the rink will be able to live up to its reputation at the Calgary Bonspiel.
